

Japan Objects is an online magazine for culture lovers, presenting the most inspiring Japanese art and design.

Launched in July 2017, we are the fastest growing cultural site about Japan, and the only web magazine dedicated to discussing and promoting exclusively Japanese brands, artists, and designers in English.

Why work with us?

- When you work with Japan Objects, you're supporting Japanese businesses, independent artists and designers just like we are.
- We know what English-speaking markets are looking for from Japan. Our premium-quality content, and advanced SEO rankings are designed to maximize your brand awareness internationally.
- Your brand gets the right exposure to a large community who are enthusiastic about Japanese art and design.
- You become part of your future customers' everyday life, appearing on a site they know and trust, and in their daily conversations on social networks.
- We want you to succeed.

Engagment is King!

Our Facebook fans don't just passively view: 33% stop to leave a comment or let us know what they think of the content we share. This shows our readers' commitment to Japan Objects, and to Japanese design generally. The average engagement rate for other sites on Facebook is just 1.6%!

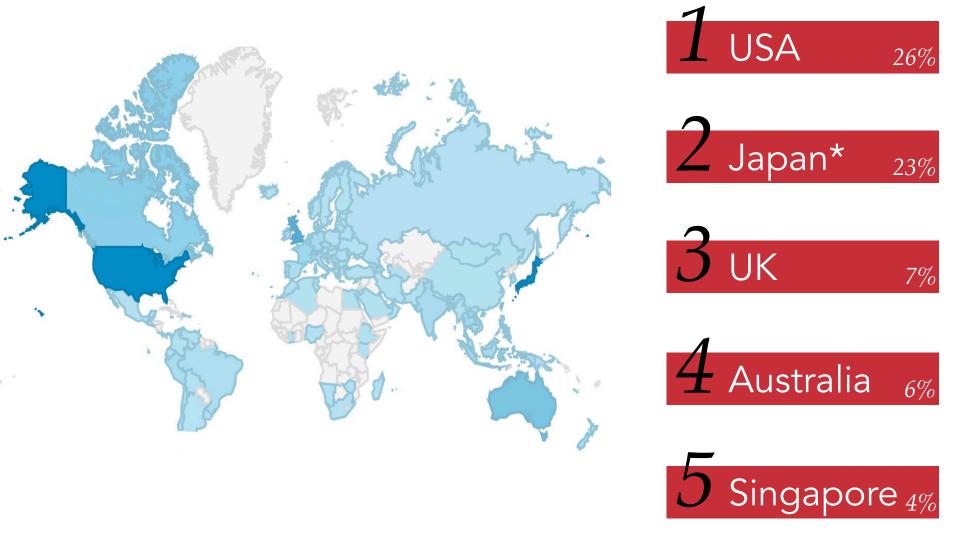

Instagram users have a reputation for scrolling through without really looking, which is why the average engagement for other accounts is just 0.7%. But for Japan Objects more than 20% of visitors share, support or comment on our posts.

Our mailing list grows rapidly and is read every week by more than 40% of recipients, double the industry average.

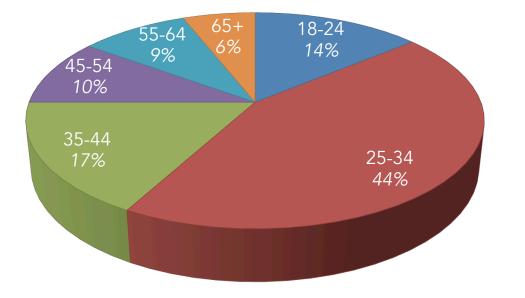

Our online community of over 15,000 dedicated fans is an interactive space for people to share their enthusiasm for Japan and Japanese culture.

Randoseru: How to Choose the Best Japanese Backpack

by Lucy Dayman | LIFESTYLE

© Tsuchiya, Randoseru Backpacks

Early in the morning or late afternoon, you'll see them traveling in clusters; small, near identical boxy bags strapped tightly upon the backs of only slighter larger Japanese elementary school children. These bags are known as randoseru. Carefully crafted, incredibly durable and often rather expensive, they've been a staple of everyday Japanese schoolwear for over a century.

However, it does them a disservice to consider the randoseru just a Japanese school bag. Dig deeper and you'll realize there's so much more than meets the eye. Incredible Japanese craftsmanship, timeless design, and a royal history; let's dive into the wonderful world of the randoseru.
